

ENGLISH LITERARY CIRCLE(ELC)- ANNUAL REPORT 2013-14

Activities conducted during the year 2013-14:

The English Literary Circle is one of the oldest forums of R.A. Podar that rose like a Phoenix this year. The academic year kick started with a renewed interest to include our Junior college counterparts too. We began with 'Game of words', a thrilling four round challenge which put the best of wits to test. Among the massive turn out, SYJC students Chaitanya Khot and Shangun Sharma took home the prize.

As a slight deviation from the usual essay writing competition, the forum introduced a Fan Fiction Writing contest, to keep pace with the multitude of blogs cropping up. The participants were each given two Fiction characters and the one with the best extrapolation (Ms. Apurva Kedrekar of S.Y.B.com - Harry Potter and Edward Cullen) bagged the title.

As they say, no Literary club is complete without a Spelling Bee. But this year, it was with a twist - it was Reverse Spelling Bee. Sumanth Kamath of S.Y.B.Com emerged the winner.

One always saves the best for the last. The curtain was drawn with the Annual Heist, a Literary Treasure Hunt. Clues were spread throughout the college premises and each team was given word based challenges like Bulls eye, Alpha Triangles and Mensa Puzzles to move towards the next clue. At the end of the finale we had Jeetendra Khilnani of T.Y.B.Com and Utsav Sejpal of F.Y.B.Com who rose as the champions.
