Alumni Feedback:

Alumni are viewed as a significant source of information by the college. Alumni input provides valuable insight into academic programs and student services. The importance of alumni input is emphasised in the strategic development policies. It also aids in improving the system's accountability.

A web-based survey was conducted to seek feedback from the alumni. Alumni rated their experience of the years spent in college.

Alumni provide valuable insights because they can illustrate the expected competencies from a “real world” perspective. This feedback is used for the overall evaluation and development of R. A. Podar College of Commerce and Economics (Autonomous).
